Day Of Thanksgiving

No more fitting Thanksgiving Day editorial could be written than the precepts contained in President Kennedy's proclamation of the national holiday that all Americans will observe tomorrow. True, some treat it as a day's vacation, but most folk take time out to count their blessings and give thanks to their Creator for his beneficence.

Excerpts from the President's words give the true meaning and purpose of the holiday:

"... We have, as in the past, ample reason to be thankful for the abundance of our blessings. We are grateful for the blessings of faith and health and strength and for the imperishable spiritual gifts of love and hope. We give thanks, too, for our freedom as a nation; for the strength of our arms and the faith of our friends; for the beliefs and confidence we share; for our determination to stand firmly for what we believe to be right and to resist mightily what we believe to be base; and for the heritage of liberty bequeathed by our an-

"Let us observe this day with reverence and with prayer that will rekindle in us the will and show us the way not only to preserve our blessings, but also to extend them to the four corners of the earth. Let us by our example, as well as by our material aid, assist all peoples of all nations who are striving to achieve a better life in freedom."

Crack Down-And Hard

The American system of justice requires as much protection under the nation's laws for the 10,000 or less members of the United States Communist Party as it does for any other citizens. They are, however, entitled to no more.

This means, quite simply, that since they once again refuse to register their party under the Internal Security Act provisions the Supreme Court has held to be constitutional, they are subject to the penalties this law prescribes.

Beginning today, the courts may impose a fine of $10,000 a day for each day the party fails to register its membership roster and its financial accounts. Beginning Dec. 1, its leaders may be fined $10,000 and imprisoned five years for each day they refuse to register. After Dec. 20 each party member who fails to register becomes subject to the same penalties.

The Communists have been in court on this issue for 10 years. That's 9 years and 364 days longer than they would have had before the tribunals of the nation whose form of government they would substitute in the nation they so arrogantly defy.

Few Americans will have any sympathy for the 10,000 Communists if the attorney general of the United States proceeds against them as vigorously as he has pledged he will. Few of the other 184 million will have anything but the most severe and deserved censure if he fails to order the crackdown that will put those who would destroy this nation's way of life safely behind bars and keep them there.

'Criminal' Stalin

When the American people have had enough of a public figure, they defeat him. He retires to semi-public life, makes an occasional speech, writes a book and has his birthday celebrated by his family and the newspapers.

Elizabeth Gurley Flynn is now National Chairman of the Communist Party of the United States and attended the 22nd Congress which declared Stalin to be a criminal and ordered his body removed from the Lenin sarcophagus. He will undoubtedly be buried somewhere else, perhaps in the wall of the Kremlin or in the little town whence he came in Georgia.

Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, an American who, when young, belonged to the I.W.W. and who has given her years to the establishment of the Communist Party in this country, may no longer mourn Stalin in dulcet sentences. She is required by party resolution to hate him and to regard him as a criminal. A new master has spoken and she must tremble and obey.

Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, who does not obey the Supreme Court of the United States, does obey Khrushchev even to the extent of declaring her former comrade to be a criminal. Of him, she said:

"With the passing of time, the world will little note nor long remember the puny attacks upon Joseph Stalin. But it can never forget his noble life and his sudden loss. Sorrow and anxiety as to the peace of the world spread swiftly to the far corners of the earth.

The plain people of the earth, the weary and heavily laden, the hungry, the oppressed, the exploited, the segregated—those denied freedom and happiness—grieve for the passing of this

How weak are men who must kill to retain their positions! Khrushchev lives in fear of being murdered or he would not murder; he fears the ghosts of his predecessors or he would not kill their memories.

The Great Unknown

The Pennsylvania Story

'Young' Or 'Old' Candidates?

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg—One of the more speculative points around Capitol Hill these days—as the old pros of both parties gaze toward next year and the gubernatorial elections—is whether the candidates should be "young" or "old."

Certainly it is an interesting question; one which has some of the so-called "strategists" in somewhat of a pothole.

They look back to 1964 and recall sorrowfully or happily—depending on which side of the fence they happened to be standing—in the November runoff Pennsylvania's second-youngest chief executive was elected to office.

When George Michael Leader won the nod that year, he did so at the age of 37 and became the first Democratic governor on the scene in 16 years.

Significantly perhaps, his election to office followed an his torically long line of "older" preceding governors (Republican)—or "older" from the comparative standpoint in that almost without exception they at least exceeded the 50-year mark.

Youngblood George Leader, in "accomplishing the impossible" notwithstanding a near-million Republican registration lead that year almost automatically in the category of pace-setter, the basic pace-setter factor centering around "youth."

Was that one of the keys to unexpected Democratic success—or wasn't it? Many within Dem circles felt certain it was indeed—and there was surprise, chagrin, anger and opposition within the party four years later when—alas for the youngblood followers—one of the oldest men to run for the governorship in contemporary times, 69-year-old David Leo Lawrence, was slated as the Democratic candidate.

What happened in 1968 has now of course been etched on the pages of history. Mr. Lawrence duly won—but perhaps "squeaked" by would be more appropriate. He polled only some 76,000 more votes than his Republican (younger) opponent.

Was this repudiation of the "young" candidate—or because of his "stature" within the Democratic Party it a tacit or placid acceptance of an "older" candidate once again?

No one knows of course—the answer can only fall within the realm of speculation.

However it is an interesting—and perhaps ultimately may be a most significant or even decisive factor in the opinion of old pros of both parties. It's too early as yet for any sort of solidification of thought.

However, in talking with GOP

State Chairman George I. Bloom

the other day, we did broach the subject which brought this reaction:

"Some people keep talking about the 'youth factor' as being so important, I just can't agree personally that you can fix any age limit on any candidate.

Certainly you've got to keep in mind that some people are old at fifty, and some are comparatively young at sixty and you've got a host of other factors that must be considered in the overall picture—factors that add up to a successful candidate; factors that must be considered in addition to age."

As for Pennsylvania Democrats—we broached the subject to Democratic State Chairman

Ois B. Morse:

"It's almost impossible to tell how strongly people vote age—or for that matter, whether they do or not. I think people vote overall qualifications—which which would perhaps include age.

For example we won with George

Leader who was quite young, and we won with Lawrence who really is young in mind. Frankly

I think it is the youthfulness and vigor of Democratic ideas and values that have played a tremendous role in winning us elections. I think it would be a mistake to pick some one because he or she is young—or old."

In the final analysis, what

place in October during the Soviet nuclear test series, but the explosion was never announced by either Russia or the U.S.

Verification of the explosion outside the earth's atmosphere has just been made by the Joint Air Force-Atomic Energy Commission evaluation committee, which is analyzing the Soviet tests.

This unprecedented blast took

The committee's findings, now being circulated within the Kennedy Administration, reveal that the detection of the blast was made by instruments carried aloft by a satellite launched by the Air Force shortly after the Soviet experiment took place.

The highly sensitive instruments picked up telltale radio-active debris when the satellite passed over the Novaya Zemlya testing grounds from where the nuclear warhead was launched atop a Soviet ICBM.

At the time of the October test, long-range U.S. radio-tracking stations picked up the flight of the ICBM and tracked the missile until it was destroyed by the detonation of its own warhead.

The nuclear explosion was not large enough to produce the spectacular auroras that the Atomic Energy Commission forecast would occur if a 100-megaton bomb were exploded in the ionosphere.

The test is believed to be a forerunner of a Soviet try to hit the moon with a nuclear warhead in the near future.

As revealed in this column on September 14, this sensational experiment will be the next stage in the Kremlin's program to put a man on the moon by 1965—or from two to five years ahead of the U.S.

Blasting The Moon—Stages III and IV, which are next on the Soviet moon schedule according to information in the hands of Representative Chet Holifield, D. Calif., chairman of the Joint Senate House Atomic Committee.

USS Pocono Hosts PMVB Prexy, Aides

THE U. S. NAVY—in particular the officers of the USS Pocono, flagship of Amphibious Force, Atlantic — were not completely unprepared when a large oil painting of the Big Pocono Mountains was presented to them recently at Norfolk, Va.

After the formal presentation of the painting, the officers and men of the USS Pocono surprised and pleased the Pocono delegation by presenting Bill Altier a mounted plaque of the Amphibious Force insignia and two large framed pictures of the ship at sea taken during recent Mediterranean maneuvers.

Altier, president of the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau, presented the painting to the Pocono namesake last week.

The Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, an association of some 246 resort, motel and recreation facility owners, presented the painting to Capt. J. W. Reed of the flagship as a token of the bond that exists between the people of the Pocono area and the ship.

The huge painting by artist Edna Palmer Engelhardt, will hang in the officers' ward room.

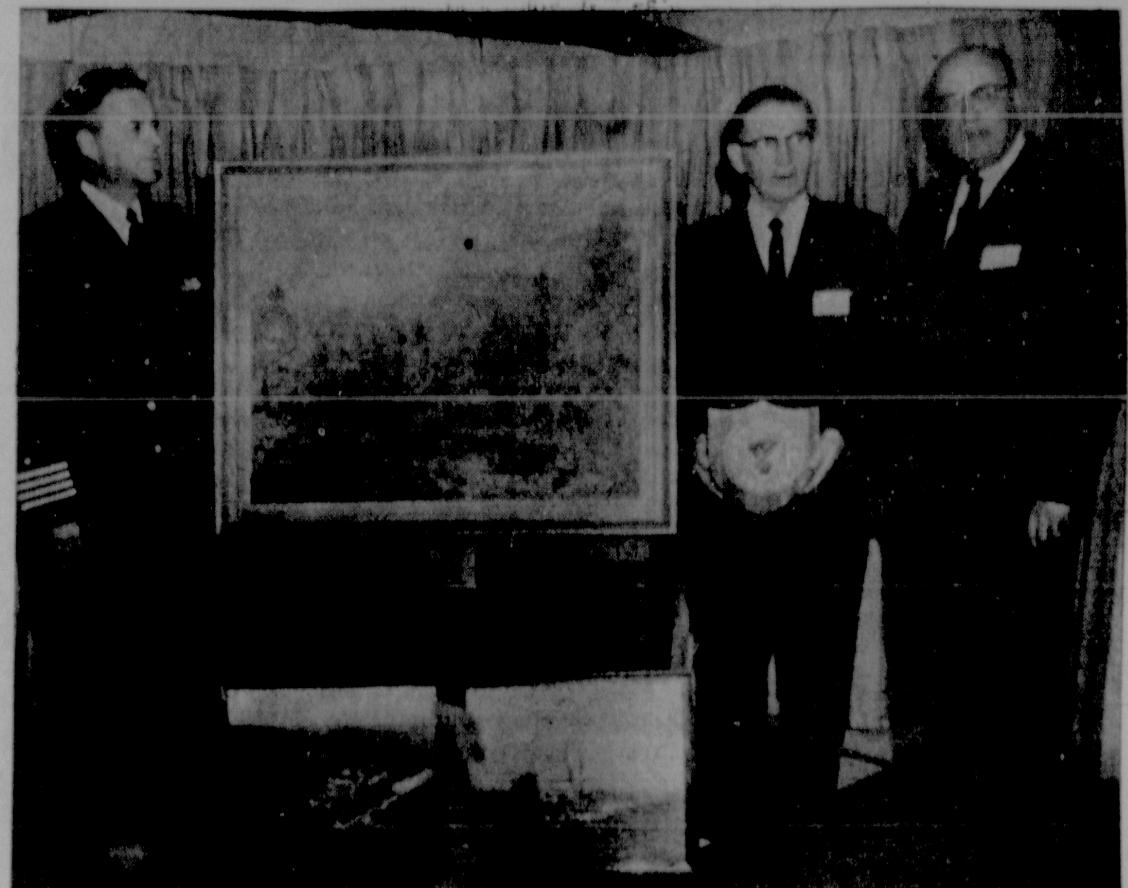

The USS Pocono was built early in 1945 at Wilmington, N. C. and was converted for Navy use at the Boston Naval Shipyard and commissioned there on Dec. 29, 1945. The vessel is designed to provide facilities for large naval and landing forces staffs who direct amphibious assaults. The USS Pocono is equipped with extensive joint communications facilities to meet the needs of a major amphibious operation.

The idea for the painting all began last summer when John Crandall of Mount Pocono was in Norfolk, Va., visiting his son, Lt. (j.g.) John D. Crandall.

Lt. Crandall, who is serving with the Amphibious force, happened to mention that there was an amphibious ship named the Pocono.

Crandall later visited the ship and soon after a decision was made with officers of the PMVB to commission Mrs. Engelhardt to paint a section of the Pocono Mountains. It was decided to paint the Big Pocono Mountain

12 Called By Board For Induction

SELECTION Service Board 105, Stroudsburg, yesterday ordered 12 registrants to report for induction next Monday, Dec. 17.

The accident, which occurred approximately behind the parking lot of Thomas P. Lambert Post 2540, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was the first on the new highway, two sections of which were formally opened to traffic for the first time yesterday.

Stroudsburg police said a taxi owned by Pocono Cab Co. and operated by Vernon Fogel, Stroudsburg, RD 1, rammed the rear of a truck owned by J. H. Beers, Inc., contractor for the new highway, which was being driven by Charles Fenner, Stroudsburg, RD 2.

Police said the accident occurred as Fenner swung his truck to the right, then cut into the left hand lane to make a U-turn across the divider between the east and west bound lanes of the road. Both truck and taxi were east bound.

A passenger in the front seat of the taxi, Mrs. Rosemary Mullally, 107 Sweetfern Rd., Stroudsburg, suffered a bumped forehead when she struck the windshield, which broke. She refused treatment and returned home.

Damage was estimated at $800 to the taxi. The truck suffered only slight damage.

As announced last night, it calls for students, adults and alumni to:

1. Refrain from organization of destructive groups.

2. Respect personal property of students.

3. Respect property of others or automobiles by not marring or removing decorations.

4. Obey all authorized school and borough officials.

5. No fans are to enter the field enclosure prior to the official's signaling the end of the game.

6. Pre-game activities should not include the destruction of school and community property.

Tavern Unit Nominates Officers

MIKE Leggieri of Stroudsburg was nominated for president of the Monroe County Tavern Assn. at a meeting yesterday at Tanglewood.

Others nominated are Phil Messina, Mt. Pocono, first vice president; Steve Nesko, Mt. Pocono, second vice president; John Altieri, Stroudsburg, RD 1, treasurer; Gus Poulos, Marshalls Creek, secretary, and John Recker, chairman of the board of directors.

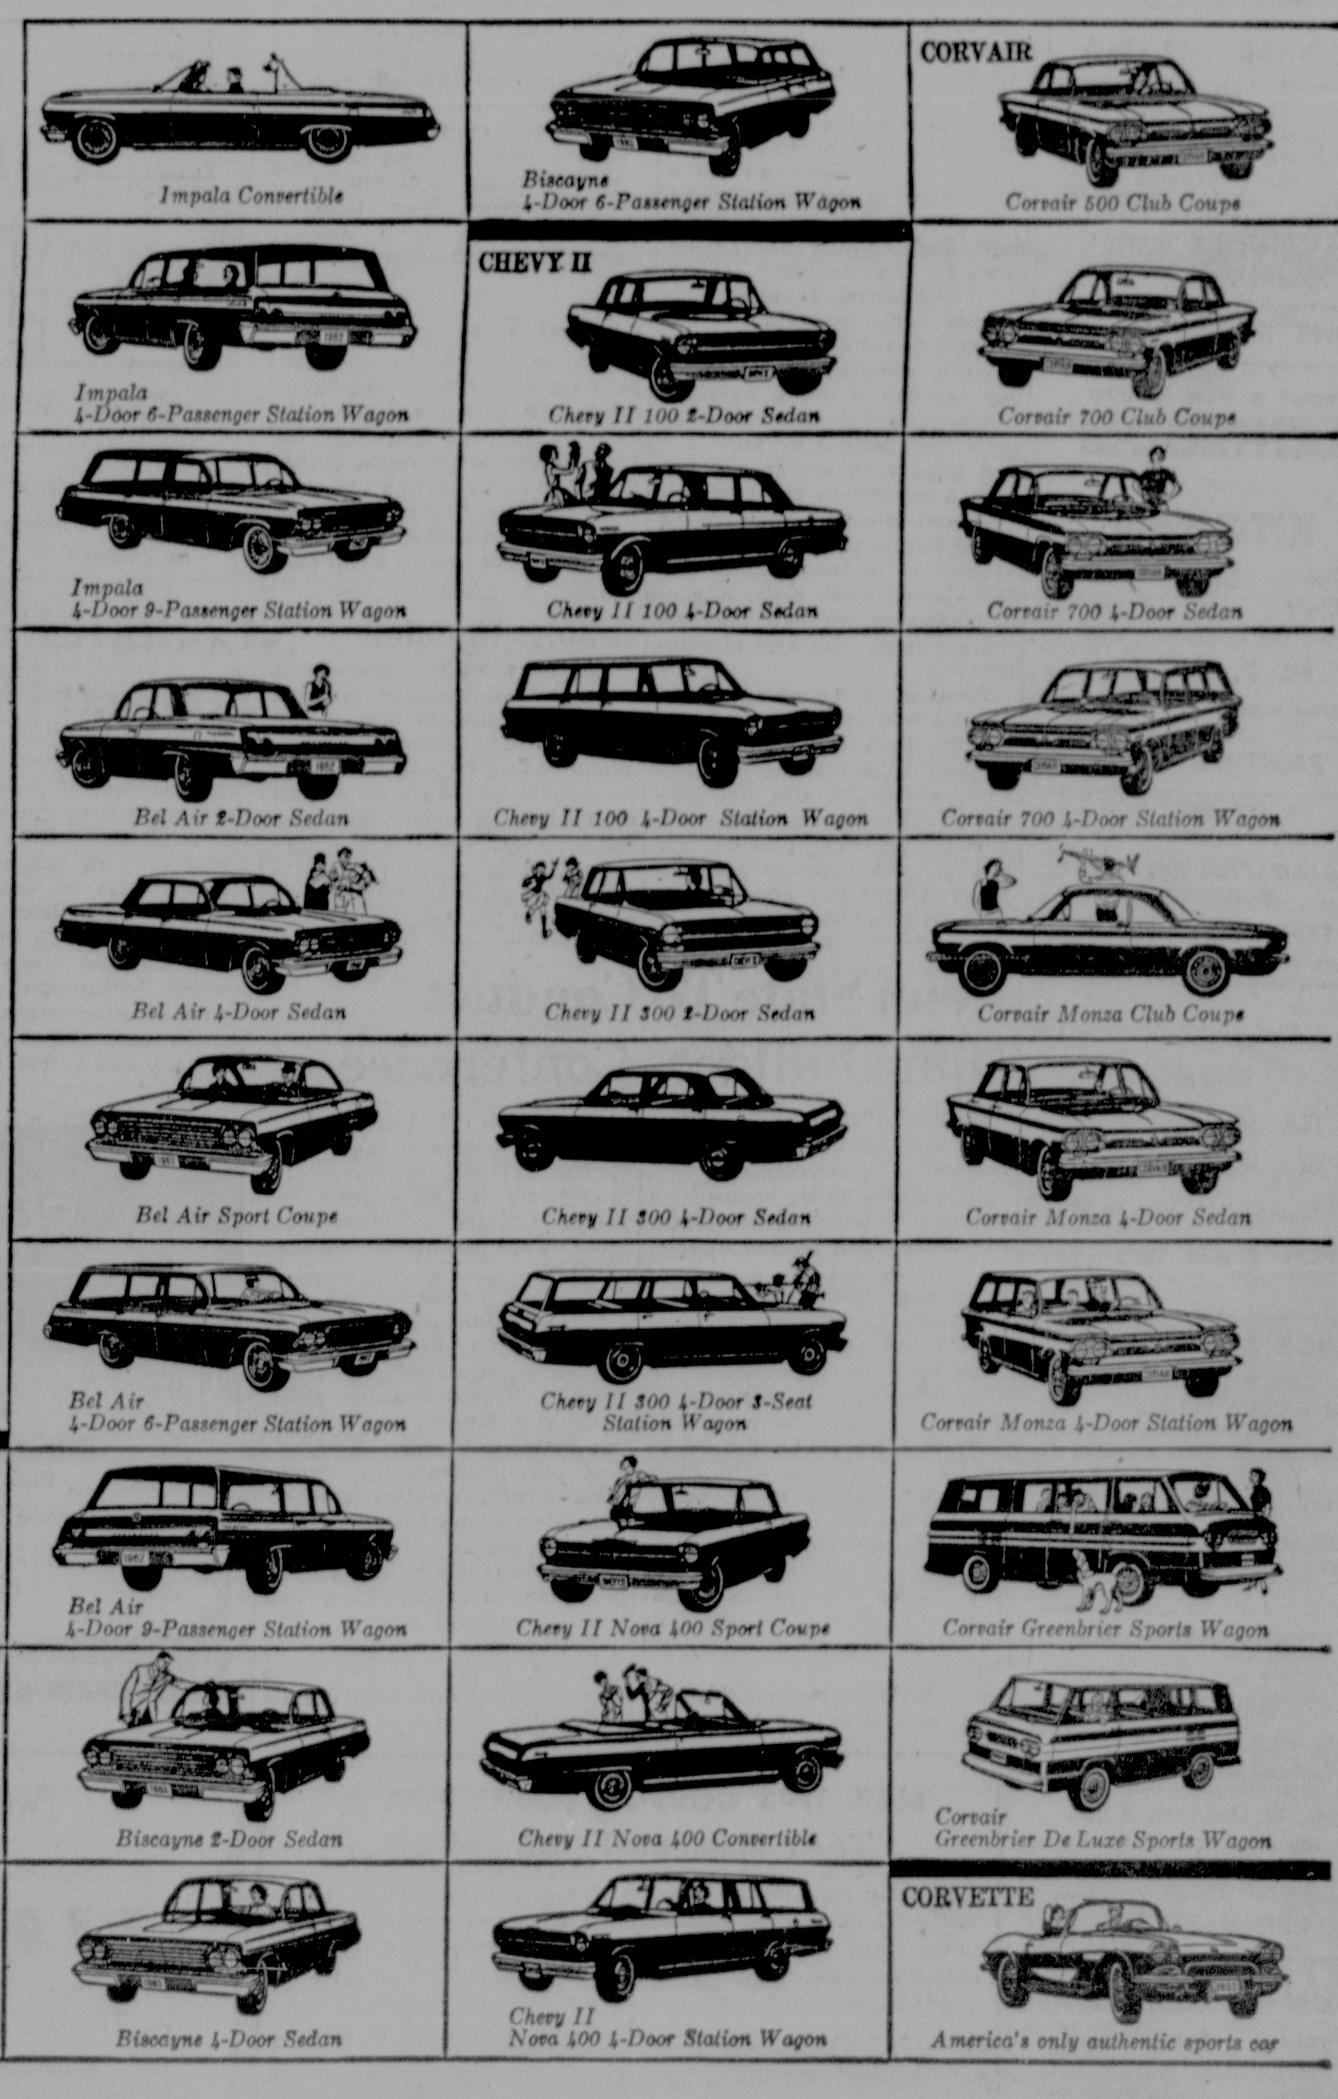

The election will be held at the group's next meeting Dec. 7 at 2 p.m. in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Two-Story House Has Bargain Rate Space

By JULES LOH
THE DICTATES of modern living — which means primarily more space — combine with the best characteristics of traditional design in this handsome and uncluttered two story house to provide a solidly simple answer to the needs of today's large family.

"New England architecture influenced the exterior of this home," said its designer, architect Herman H. York. "There's nothing really fancy about it — just simple, clean lines with as few varieties of material as possible."

That, in itself, is somewhat extraordinary; and it becomes even more so when you consider the well-ordered interior floor plan.

The house contains 1,163 square feet on the first floor, 1,123 square feet on the second (total of 2,286), and the garage adds 462 square feet. Its overall dimensions are 65 feet wide and 29' four inches deep. There are four bedrooms and two and one-half baths. It is design number B-93 in the House of the Week series.

A family of six or seven, architect York observes, requires more room than merely adequate sleeping space. This is a point often neglected or overlooked in four-bedroom homes, but not so in this case.

A 13 foot by 17 foot room, or recreation room, plus an 11 foot, four inch by 13 foot den provide a spacious and functional informal living area. The area is clearly separated from the formal entertaining zone, a 382 square foot exposure accented by a large living room fireplace. The excellent zoning is further emphasized by a two-step drop in the level of the den and recreation rooms.

The house contains a full basement for laundry and storage facilities, and the basement stairs are right off the kitchen.

Additional Details
B-93 STATISTICS
A four-bedroom two-story house with 2½ baths, recreation room, den, living room, dining room, two-car garage and full basement. Dimensions are 65 feet wide and 29 feet, four inches deep. Contains 1,163 square feet of living area on first floor, 1,123 square feet on second floor (total of 2,286 square feet) and garage adds 462 square feet.

Easiest Way

THE easiest way to approach painting a wall is to start at a right hand corner and gradually work to your left. Start at the top and work down painting a two foot area at a time. Always start the first brush stroke or roller movement in a dry area and paint toward a wet one.

Ceilings In Color

WHILE a ceiling painted flat white will reflect the greatest amount of illumination, many people prefer color overhead. While the ceiling is low or of normal height, brush or roll on a pastel tint of a color that complements your walls. With a high ceiling, you may prefer to "lower" it optically with a darker shade of the wall color.

Penn State To Conduct Homebuilders Conference

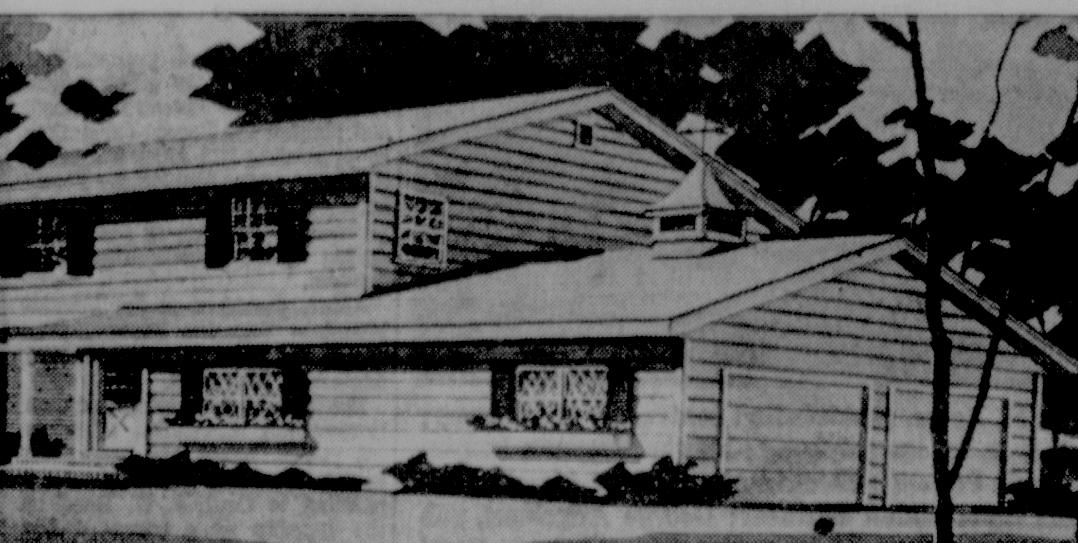

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA. — The building of homes is big business in Pennsylvania.

It is also a highly competitive business in which a contractor can become and remain successful only by keeping abreast of marketing and good business practices, as well as technical details and good planning.

Topics will include regulations and planning for subdivision utilities, determining labor costs, thermal insulation as an asset, sources of funds for the building industry in the 1960's, recent developments in money management, creative marketing, integration of low-cost fallout shelters into the design of new homes, the builder's freedoms and responsibilities, and redesigning town centers.

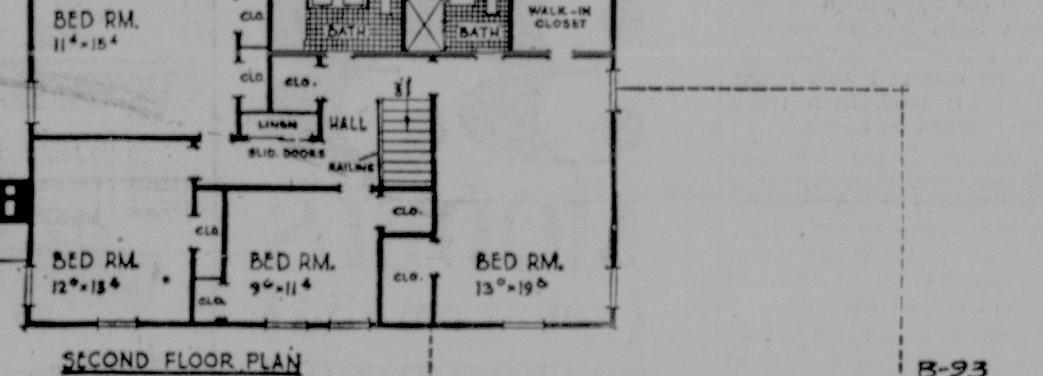

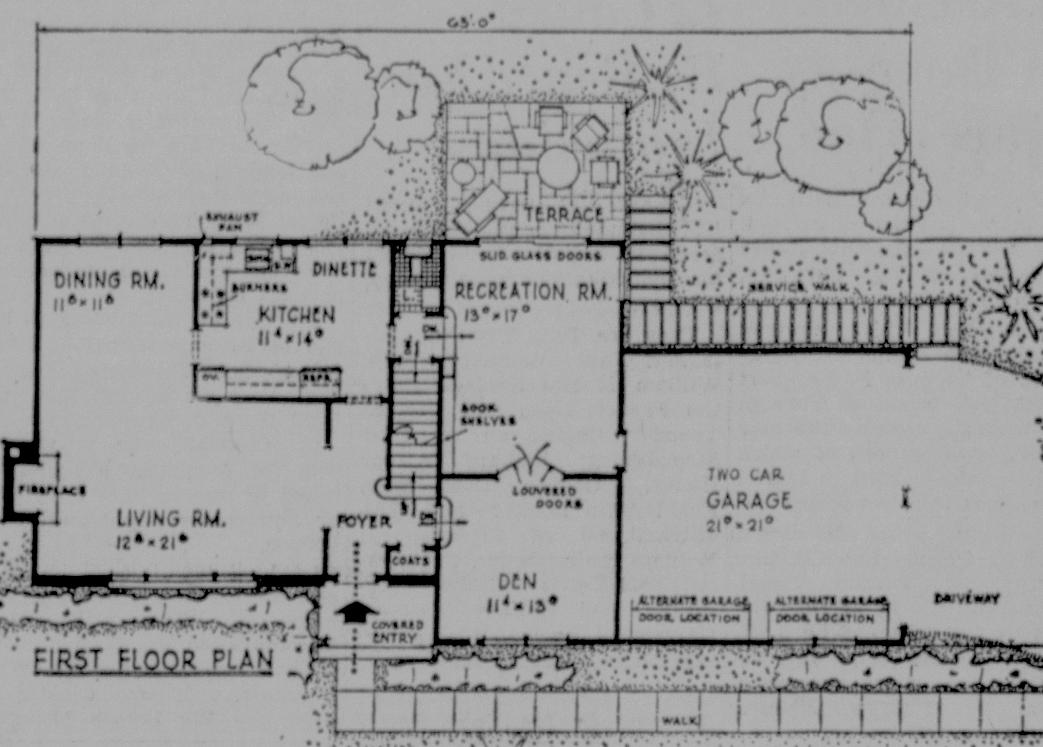

Further information may be obtained from the Conference Center, The Pennsylvania State University, University Park.

Of particular interest this year will be a report on the results

CLEAN AND ELEGANT: There is nothing fancy about the exterior of this four-bedroom two story home, but its uncluttered simplicity is extraordinary. A family of six or seven would find plenty of room for well-ordered, modern living in its 2,286 square feet of habitable area. Its dimensions are 25 feet wide by 29 feet 4 inches deep.

B-93

FLOOR PLANS: The clear separation of formal, informal and work areas of this house makes it extremely livable. Note also the abundance of closet space upstairs, especially the extra hall closet and the two walk-in closets in the master bedroom. House has a full basement.

Contaminated Water Is Great Household Danger

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA. — Contamination of ground water and the resulting danger to persons using water from wells is a problem which has been given a great deal of consideration during the past few years.

Most water, even though polluted, may be made safe for human consumption through the use of chlorinators. Hardness can be overcome by the use of softeners, and turbid water can be made clear with the aid of filters.

Water well contractors are in a position to advise their clients of the corrective measures that may be taken to disinfect ground water which has become contaminated through private sewage disposal, mine acid, or industrial waste.

Christmas Decoration That Is Novel

THIS novel outdoor Christmas decoration extends a colorful greeting to all who pass, whether by day or night. Evergreens, Christmas ornaments and outdoor lights plus perforated hardboard letters, combine to simplify making this gay salute to a most festive season.

The full size pattern offered below simplifies cutting out the big letters from hardboard. The pattern also locates positions of lights and ornaments to insure success for your efforts.

The letters, measuring approximately 26 inches high by 50 inches wide, are easy to cut out. After tracing each full size letter, each is cut out with a coping or jigsaw, then fastened to a frame exactly as the step-by-step directions suggest.

You can probably find enough ornaments and outdoor lights to complete the projects. Simplified directions tell how to make as well as assemble the display.

Lutherans Collecting Clothing

THE forty Lutheran Churches of the area embraced in the Easton District are currently engaged in collecting clothing for world distribution through Lutheran World Relief.

The garments are being sent to strategic areas of poverty and need brought about by disaster, war, invasion and communistic pressures.

Each church is being used as a repository for clothing and shoes brought by members and friends of the constituent churches.

All families of these churches are urged to cooperate with this urgent appeal for clothing for the destitute peoples of the world.

Rev. William Wunder, chairman of the appeal, said last night that the response was heartening and indicative of people's love for Christ and their brethren.

The clothing gifts are sorted, sized and shipped from the Lutheran Church's processing plant and warehouse in Easton.

Each congregation is responsible for the transporting of their Thanksgiving clothing collection to the Easton center.

It All Depends, Dearie!

Dear Abby: I am almost 20 and have been having a disagreement with my mother. She doesn't want me to have anything to do with a certain neighbor man. He is 33, divorced, and has two children. All we do is sit on my front porch and talk, and I don't see anything wrong with that. I would rather sit and talk with him all evening than go on a date with any of the younger men I know. Mother is worried about "my reputation" and "gossip" and blah, blah . . . but I don't care. Is there anything wrong with just talking?

LIKES TO TALK

Dear Likes: Not a thing. Unless he talks you into something.

Dear Abby: I am growing more and more worried over the fact that I can't seem to get married. I am a good-looking woman of 35, shapely, intelligent, kind, industrious, moral, healthy and vivacious. I don't want to boast, but I can't think of one desirable feminine characteristic that I don't possess. Nearly every man I go out with wants to marry me. But I don't want to marry them. Everyone who meets me is amazed that I have never been married. I want to be loved, and have children some day, but I have yet to meet the man I could feel that deeply about. I know, as the years pass, I won't have all these opportunities, and it saddens me. What is wrong with me?

"TOO PARTICULAR"

Dear Too: There is no such thing as being "too particular." Concentrate more on the desirable characteristics of the men you meet, and less on your own. There is somebody for everybody, but the gate must swing both ways.

Dear Abby: My husband and I had a rather heated argument with my daughter's fiance over where to draw the line on invitations to their wedding dinner. We plan a very small dinner following the ceremony to which aunts and uncles (no cousins) will be invited. My daughter's maid of honor is from out of town (she is a college chum), and has requested that her fiance be invited to the dinner. My husband and I see no reason why he shouldn't be, since this girl knows none of the relatives, and his presence would insure her a happy time. Our future son-in-law insists he is an "outsider" and, if he is invited to the dinner, we are obligated to invite all the about 50 cousins of all ages. Are we wrong?

UPSET

Dear Upset: You are not wrong. Tell your future son-in-law not to be so technical.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal

Dystrophy March Is Encouraging

EARLY returns of the March on Muscular Dystrophy in Monroe County are encouraging according to Oscar Barry of Stroudsburg and John Baird East Stroudsburg who are coordinating the annual financial appeal.

Only a few sections have been reached, but "we are moving well ahead of last year," note the two veteran campaigners in referring to contributions as well as territory already covered by the volunteer workers who are soliciting door-to-door.

Both feel confident that if the trend continues throughout the remainder of the drive, the county will go over the top in meeting its share of the $9,000 goal set for the 1961 appeal in Carbon, Monroe and Schuylkill counties.

The funds are being raised to help support MDAA's vast research program and assure continuation of local patient service programs and the MD clinic at Lancaster General Hospital.

Of the funds collected locally, 75 percent will be forwarded to the national MDAA office for research into the mysterious disease. The balance stays with the local chapter.

"We wish we could make more people understand the desperate plight of MD victims," the two campaign chairmen assert. "Monroe County residents have always been generous, they add, and we know they'll help fellow Americans afflicted with this terrible disease. We appeal to everyone to respond generously when volunteers call."

Monroe 92% Of Quota In Bond Sales

PENNSYLVANIA purchased U. S. Savings Bonds amounting to more than $34,000,000 last month — a gain of 11 per cent over a year ago. The total for 1961 now stands at $345,500,000 or 80.5 per cent of the state's goal of $429,200,000.

Of special interest is the sharp rise in Series H Bond sales. During October these bonds accounted for $6,354,000 of the total volume as compared to $4,241,500 for the same month a year ago — a gain of approximately 33 per cent.

A contributing factor in this performance was the broad advertising support Pennsylvania newspapers gave to Series H Bonds during the month, coupled with extra emphasis on quota attainment by bankers, county bond committees, and state organizations.

(Series H Bonds are current income bonds sold at par in denominations ranging from $500 to $10,000. Interest is paid by Treasury check sent by mail twice a year.)

Sales of E and H Bonds in Monroe county during October were $115,831. This brings the total for the year up to $1,265,116 or 92.1 per cent of quota, reports E. H. Wyckoff, county chairman of the savings bonds organization.

Nine counties in Pennsylvania have achieved 83.3 per cent or more of their quotas, a successful pattern of performance for the ten-month period, according to Charles S. Krumrine, state chairman. They are: Pike (111.9%), Green (94.5%), Monroe (92.1%), Butler (90.7%), Elk (89.2%), Venango (88.1%), Cambria (88%), Forest (86.1%) and Bradford (83.8%).

Use Hearse As An Arsenal

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Police in the Irish Republic swooped down on a funeral Tuesday.

Inside the hearse instead of a coffin with a corpse, they found a chest of ammunition and rifles.

The discovery was made in the Carrick on Shannon district of County Leitrim. The hearse was headed for the Northern Ireland border, police said.

Three men who jumped from the vehicle were chased and two were arrested.

Terms Reduced

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia plans to reduce the maximum prison term from 25 to 15 years but retain the death penalty for treason, sabotage and terrorism, says the Bratislava paper Praca.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

In the swirling eddies of the just-before-the-holiday news, two items got by yesterday that were of particular interest to me. One of them concerns Mrs. Cecelia Hagerty's invention for the mass care program: stuffing mattresses with newspapers.

As a Girl Scout before the offe days of air mattresses for overnights and innerspring mattresses for established camps, I've stuffed many a mattress with straw from the barn before lugging them down to Deerborn, and I'm sure newspapers would be much less prickly.

But in this case, the item was of particular interest because the newspapers at the St. John's group used were all Daily Records. It's sort of a solemn thought: that maybe, instead of deteriorating each day's garbage, this daily prose will be preserved in some mass care mattress where post-fall-out generations can do historical research like the Dead Sea Scrolls or something.

And the second item was Maries' Romsey's engagement. Behind the formal announcement is the kind of love story that bears out the truth of the cliché that truth is stranger than fiction. It's a story with everything: the adventure of travel to a strange land, the suspense of getting typhoid in a native hospital, besides the handsomest hero (if he does his pictures justice) you'd ever want to see.

On Thanksgiving Eve, while I'm counting my blessing let me not forget to add all of you who provide me with enough amusement, amazement, romance and suspense, and mystery to spice the most humdrum chores.

Jinx Won't Hurt Tide Says Bryant

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—No, says Alabama Coach Paul Bryant, he doesn't think his Crimson Tide football team's No. 1 rating in The Associated Press poll will work as a jinx.

"I don't believe in a jinx," he says.

Nevertheless, there's such a thing as occasional caution.

"I sometimes wear the same hat and tie to games," he says. "But that's because I'm a coach."

Bryant's unbeaten and untied team—the only major football power with such a record at this late stage in the season—climbed to the top Tuesday with 39 first place votes from the 49 members of the AP panel of sports writers and sportscasters. Alabama now a total of 469 points in the voting.

A 10-0 victory over Georgia Tech, plus the 6-0 downfall of Texas at the hands of TCU, catapulted Alabama from second to the top. Ohio State moved into second place with six first-place votes and 408 points. Minnesota was third with 354, Louisiana State fourth with 353, and Texas slipped to fifth with 321.

Points Basis

Points are figured on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for a second-place vote, and so on, through 1 for a 10th-place vote.

Alabama, now 9-0 in the standings, and unscorched in the last four games, needs only to whip Auburn on Dec. 2 to complete its first unbeaten season in 16 years. The Tide has an open date this Saturday.

For Alabama, the No. 1 rating marks a climax in a rags-to-riches story in six years. Alabama didn't win a single game in 1955. Three years later Bryant returned to his alma mater as head coach and the upswing started. The Tide was No. 3 in pre-season ratings this year, and has stayed in the top five all the way so far.

Club Records
Pleasant Valley's Bears will carry a 0-7 record into the game, while the Cardinals of Pocono have lost only once in four starts. Pocono was beaten 12-0 by Stroud Union junior varsity, the only team to score on coach Al Sholzberger's club.

Pocono has scored 44 points

In five games and has given up but 12. In eight games the Bears have hit for 39 points and have been kicked for 151 points.

Mark Mikels and Stu Kreck lead the Cardinals in scoring. Each player has 12 points. Mikels, a halfback, scored both his TDs on runs, while Kreck, an end, hauled in two touchdown passes from quarterback Tom Battista. Battista has tallied seven points this year. They came on a touchdown and an extra-point.

Jerry Hanna and Keith Mikels, Mark's brother, each have a touchdown and Tom Derrick has an extra-point.

Starting Team

The Cards starting line-up will have Bill Anderson and Kreck at ends, Neil Fritz and Don Litwin at tackles, Andrew Pirozzi and K. Mikels at guards and Ron Vican at center. Battista and Allen Young will share the quarterback spot with M. Mikels and Hanna at halfbacks. Bill Coffman and Derrick will alternate at fullback.

Pleasant Valley, coached by Wayne Hulsizer, former Pen Argyl High griddler, will have K. Brong and C. Hawk at ends, D. Andrews and B. Shupp at tackles and R. Borgner and Ken Zacharias at guard. The center is Ron Dorshimer.

In the backfield Hulsizer will have L. Murphy or Rickie Everett at quarterback, Henry Mosier and R. Frantz at halfbacks and Lou Herfurth at fullback.

Borgner and Herfurth are the co-captains for Pleasant Valley, while Battista and Kreck are the Cardinal co-captains.

Serfass Picks Perfect Slate

PALMER Serfass, of 300 Pine Ave., Stroudsburg, is the winner of last week's Daily Record football contest.

Serfass picked all 22 games correctly and picked the highest score, the 55 points scored by Wisconsin.

Richard Newton, of 110 Walnut St., East Stroudsburg, also picked all the winners but listed 48 points as the high mark.

Robert Phillips finished out of the money but also had 22 correct games. He thought 38 points would be high.

Thirteen other entries picked 21 of 22 games correctly.

The TD came on a 50 yard pass play from Sonny Gibbs in the second quarter. Buddy snared the ball on the Texas 8 and went over. He modestly told Jim Fain, sports editor of the Temple (Tex) Telegram Saturday night that he thought his knee touched the ground before he crossed the goal line.

Be that as it may, six points went up on the scoreboard and Texas was behind for the first time this season. The Longhorns never caught up.

After putting the Horned Frogs ahead, Iles led his teammates in a sterilizing line play that halted all of Texas' threats. In the last quarter he killed the final Texas drive with a touchdown-saving tackle on the TCU 4.

Thus, Iles not only won the game with his TD but also saved it with that vital tackle.

"We hustled, boy, did we hustle," he chorused in the dressing room afterwards.

"Let's head back home where it's safe and warm"

Pleasant Valley, Pocono After Old Oaken Bucket

THE TRADITION is being established, even though Pocono Mountain and Pleasant Valley High Schools will be playing their first football game against each other Thursday.

The two teams will be battling for the Old Oaken Bucket, which is being donated by East Stroudsburg businessman Marty Baldwin.

The team that wins the game each year will keep the bucket for a year. In case of a tie, the team that won the previous year will keep the trophy. The first game is booked for Pleasant Valley's field in Brodheadsville with a 10 a.m. kickoff. Tickets for the game are being sold at both schools. Only general admission tickets are available. Pleasant Valley has a seating capacity of about 400 but the school's athletic director, Art Smith, is interested in finding additional bleachers. Smith asks anyone who knows of available bleachers to contact him at the school.

Irish Won't Concede

Officials Were Wrong; But Notre Dame Says "No"

CHICAGO (AP)—Notre Dame's strange that officials now feel otherwise. At any rate, the interpretation given to the basic NCAAF rules as it applied to the point in question seems to us to be both ambiguous and illogical.

"We endorse Mr. Reed's request that the rule and interpretation be clarified and urge that a special committee of rules experts be convened by the NCAA for this purpose."

At Syracuse, Andreas noted that the Orange also endorsed Reed's request and said Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, had agreed to ask the NCAA rules committee for a final ruling.

"We believe Commissioners Reed and Bushnell have interpreted correctly and we know the game officials in their reports admitted their mistake in allowing the extra play," Andreas said. "Syracuse is confident the committee (NCAA rules committee) will agree with the commissioners' report."

The hub of the whole dispute appeared to be whether the game was over when Perkowski's first field goal try from 56 yards out failed and was slammed into by a Syracuse rusher.

Film Clip

According to a film clip shown here Tuesday by Notre Dame sports publicist Charles Callahan, Perkowski was bowled over, after his kick, and in turn knocked over his holder Sefcik.

Gus Skibbe of Bowling Green, Ohio, head linesman supplied by the Big Ten, called a 15-yard penalty even though had expired and Perkowski then booted his dramatic 41-yard field goal for the Irish win.

Ike Mahoney Dead At 59

OMAHA (AP)—Frak (Ike) Mahoney, 59, Boys Town staff member and former professional football player, was found dead in his bed at Boys Town Tuesday.

Mahoney, a star athlete at Creighton University, had been on the Boys Town staff since 1947. A heart attack was listed as the apparent cause of death.

He played with the Chicago Cardinals professional football team from 1926 to 1930.

Mountie Coach Holds 5-2 Edge In Borough Classic

JERRY STULGAITIS and Jack Kist will be coaching against each other for the first time in five years Thursday morning.

The two schools met last in 1955 when Stroud Union and East Stroudsburg High battled to a 7-7 tie.

Kist and Stulgaitis have been involved in eight games. Stulgaitis has won five games, Kist two and there has been one tie.

So no matter who wins Thursday's 10 a.m. game at Gordon Giffels, Stulgaitis will still hold the edge. But the Mountie coach cares little about past performances.

The Mountaineers, who enter the game with a 3-6 record, plan no line-up changes. The same is true of East Stroudsburg, which carries an 8-1 mark into the finale. Stroud Union can gain only a great deal of prestige by beating the Cavaliers, but there is a lot more at stake for the Cavaliers.

Can Share Title

If East Stroudsburg beats Stroud Union and Pen Argyl loses to Bangor, then East will make up the defensive secondary.

Cavalier Lineups

Kist will start Earl Palmer and Harry Van Vliet at offensive ends spots, Allen Schell and Mike Boushell at tackles and Kirk Nelson and Hank Harris at guards. The center is Bob Deiter.

In the backfield it will be Jack Van Horn at quarterback, Harold (Mach 2) Myers and Brian (Flying) Farris at halfbacks and Dave Harmon at fullback. Jim Stelle will alternate with Harmon.

On defense, Pete Maaser and Ross Transue will join Palmer and Van Vliet at the end work, Nelson and Harris will handle the guards and Schell, Boushell and Bud Stann will alternate at tackles. Farris and Myers will be the linebackers, with help from Nelson, Stelle, Van Horn and John Mosher.

The Cavaliers are heavy favorites to win their second straight holiday game. But if Kist feels the favorite role is deserved, he's not showing it.

Outside Work

Despite Monday's snow, Kist sent his squad through a lengthy scrimage session. The Cavaliers have been outside every day since the Nazareth game.

Both coaches would like to see the game played in dry weather, even though a muddy field is supposed to favor the underdog.

"We're going to have to pass," says Stulgaitis, "and we'll need a dry day for a good passing game."

According to Vernon Hontz, Stroud Union faculty manager, tickets for the game are moving rapidly.

The tickets, all general admission type, are being sold at Lim's Sporting Goods, Rea and Derick's, Flaglers Drug Store, Kresge Drug Store, Counter-mans Drug Store, City Cut-Rate, and Lantz Store.

The ball park gates will open at 9 a.m.

Knights Near 2 Football Crowns

Heard Leads

Junior Gary Heard leads the club in ground gaining and scoring. He has carried 125 times for 923 yards, 7.4 average and 111 points. Heard leads the area scorers. East Stroudsburg's Harold (Mach 2) Myers is next with 99.

Heard had his best game of the year against Nazareth, when he gained 174 yards on 26 carries and scored 33 points.

Bob Engler, the other Knight halfback, has carried 137 times for 883 yards and has scored 75 points.

Bangor's top ball carrier is Leo Reimer, however, Reimer does not have the record of either Heard or Engler.

The Slatters are in first place in the L-N league with a 5-0 record. East Stroudsburg (5-1) is in second but has finished its schedule. In the Pocono-Slate Belt chase, Pen Argyl leads with 8-1 and Bangor is 7-1.

Two other Slatters, who have been sidelined with broken legs are back with the squad but coach Dakey Pritchard is not certain how long they will be able to play. They are halfback Bill Yeager and end Ned Oyer.

LaBar Back

Brian LaBar, who fractured two vertebrae two weeks ago is also back with the team. LaBar played briefly against Hellertown.

The Knights' defense has allowed 387 points, an average of 38.7 per game. This is well ahead of second place West Texas State, with 32.8, and Memphis State, with 32.3.

Utah State, which has closed its season without a defeat and with one tie, appears certain to wind up as the top scoring eleven in the nation. The Skyline Conference co-champions are runners-up in almost every other department, ready to step in should the leader fall.

In 10 games, Utah State scored

387 points, an average of 38.7 per game. This is well ahead of second place West Texas State, with 32.8, and Memphis State, with 32.3.

Give Thanks in Church on...

THANKSGIVING

...from our historic past comes the rebirth and reminiscence of a day of gratefulness celebrated by the Indians by our early settlers. They gave thanks for a bounteous land. It was as if all their prayers had been answered. It is, perhaps, fitting that we who have so much, in such a great land, should give thanks to GOD for it in Church on Thanksgiving.

This message is sponsored by the following civic minded firms and individuals to remind us that we live in a country where Freedom is a right, Worship is our choice, the individual is King, and thankfulness is a much used maxim
